this collection of original work demonstrates the new ways in which particular research methodologies are used valued and critiqued in the field of race and ethnic studies contributing authors discuss the ways in which their personal and professional histories and experiences lead them to select and use particular methodologies over the course of their careers they then provide the intellectual histories strengths and weaknesses of these methods as applied to issues of race and ethnicity and discuss the ethical practical and epistemological issues that have influenced and challenged their methodological principles and applications through these rigorous self examinations this text presents a dynamic example of how scholars engage both research methodologies and issues of social justice and ethics this volume is a successor to stanfield s landmark race and ethnicity in research methods in this collection of essays the authors examine how racial considerations have affected the way social science is conducted how issues are framed and data is analyzed with an assemblage of leading scholars white logic white methods explores the possibilities and necessary dethroning of current social research practices and demands a complete overhaul of current methods towards multicultural and pluralist approach to what we know think and question anti racism studies have blossomed over the years with scholarship and political work reinforcing each other to cement anti racist change but how do we understand anti racist research how is anti racist research methodology different from other methods of research investigation what are the principles of anti racism research this edited collection attempts to provide some answers by bringing together works that examine the perils and desires of anti racist research with a particular focus on the notion of difference and a serious consideration of the race gender class and sexuality intersections implications of educational research systemic racism and educational measurement provides a theoretical and historical reckoning with racism and oppression produced through educational measurement and research methodology as scholars and professionals in the testing measurement and assessment of human learning and performance work to exorcise race sciences white supremacy and other injustices from the field s research and practice new insights are needed into their root causes this book is the first to posit that the theory of the white racial frame was and continues to be applied to the foundations process dissemination and use of educational measurement leading to instruments findings and decisions that perpetuate the racialized social structure of our nation even among well meaning stakeholders who aim to improve humanity and address inequities the white racial frame shapes the field's research questions the methods utilized the data valued the interpretations made and the language used throughout students and scholars of educational measurement testing and psychometrics will find invaluable clarifications of terminology concepts and theories integral to understanding systemic barriers in the field explications of educational measurement's core purposes and its influence by the white racial frame and a series of alternate frames theories and epistemologies intended to guide educational measurement toward anti racism and increased fairness studying across race and ethnic lines creates many problems for the researcher these problems involve practical strategic ethical and epistemological questions alike the contributors to race and ethnicity in research methods most of them scholars of color examine the array of methods used in quantitative qualitative and comparative historical research to show how ethnic sensitive research can best be carried out among the methodological traditions discussed are survey research demography testing and assessment ethnography discourse analysis comparative methods and archival research of interest not only to the researcher and instructor of race and ethnic studies this volume should be of equal value to social scientists interested in teaching or practicing any form of research that needs to properly address issues of race and ethnicity this comprehensive guide will be an invaluable resource for anyone who teaches and or is engaged in research in the field of race and ethnicity behavioural psychotherapy i highly recommend this volume for those researchers who are genuinely interested in producing better and more creative solutions to some of the issues and problems involving racial and ethnic minority groups journal of marketing research in race and ethnicity in research methods john h stanfield ii and rutledge m dennis call for serious and rigorous treatment of the subject which sheds the journalistic style narrow focus and cultural bias of much of past research they bring together 13 articles that reveal the rich diversity of methods available for researching ethnic groups and ethnic relations there is a healthy dose of multidisciplinarity the book is essential for u s race and ethnic researchers who seek to avoid the narrowness and pitfalls of much past research i would recommend this book for research seminars on race and ethnic relations specifically and for general methodology courses which seek to present the diversity of approaches to sociological issues contemporary sociology this book contains essays that will stimulate much discussion among scholars while providing practical ethical and strategic methodological considerations for conducting research across racial and ethnic lines nursing research provides a debate on issues of crime race racism and criminal justice the work considers issues such as competing ethnic classification schemes the definition of racial and ethnic data in criminal justice agency records this is the book that many of us in the field of race scholarship have been waiting for minelle mahtani university of toronto scarborough in 1994 up to a million men women and children were slaughtered in rwanda in just 100 days the genocide showed how quickly racism in this case in the form of ethnic hatred can erupt into bloodshed and despair particularly when it is fuelled by those in power or those seeking power racism to varying degrees and in various forms infects virtually every country of the world the law and its administration which should uphold the values of justice and equality is one of the primary forces in opposing the effects of racism yet justice systems all too often fail in this purpose and instead mirror the prejudices of the society they serve based on research conducted by amnesty international in recent years this publication shows that members of ethnic minorities often suffer torture ill treatment and harassment at the hands of the police in many parts of the world they face unfair trials and discriminatory sentencing which puts them at increased risk of harsh punishments including the death penalty action to combat racism is needed urgently this report concludes with recommendations on how governments can work to end racism in the administration of justice
